

Only Got So Much Time

Bucky Covington

Life's too short to drink cheap wine
And God don't like yea
To waste sunshine and after all
We've only got so much time

We take a vacation, every once in a while
And buy some new clothes that ain't out of style
And we put 'em on
We've only got so much time

If you gonna dance you gotta tear up the dance floor
You sing, sing at the top of your lungs
And act like it's one you never heard before
That's right, we've only got so much time

Offer your truck if somebody's moving
Call up your brother, just say how you're doin'
"How 'bout them Steelers boy?"
We've only got so much time

When a baby gets born, hand out cigars
Camp out with your kids in your own backyard
Play flashlight tag
We've only got so much time

If you gonna dance you gotta tear up the dance floor
You sing, sing at the top of your lungs
And act like it's one you never heard before
That's right, we've only got so much time

When you sit at the table don't forget to say Grace
And don't be afraid, to take a ty in the face
'Cause after all
We've only got so much time

And when a friend needs help
Then give it, don't long it [?]
Can sit by the ocean and pretend that you own it
Yea, you know
We've only got so much time

If you gonna dance you gotta tear up the dance floor
You sing, sing at the top of your lungs
And act like it's one you never heard before
That's right, we've only got so much time

We've only, we've only
We've only got so much time