How Beautiful You Are

Perfect You, imperfect me What could I bring to the One Who's given me everything All the wealth in this world Could never fully reimburse The Savior of the universe

All I want to tell You is How beautiful You are How beautiful You are

Holy You, unworthy me I'll forever be in awe Of the gift that You gave to me Now when I take my last breath I know I'll exhale at Your feet And sing this to You in eternity

All I want to tell You is How beautiful You are How beautiful You are Jesus
