Remember the Tragedy

Cain's Dinasty

I remember your voice whispering I'll never leave you alone I remember you used to say I'll always be with you

Then she left that tragic night Then she left forevermore

Every night I see you in my dreams
I return to that tragic place
But I can't save you my love
I just promise to stay with you till I wake.

Now I see your face in my mind every day I'll always remember your last words Before you die

Each nightmare shows me the tragedy
But before I wake I see your eyes again
