

Chicken Shack Boogie

Canned Heat

Hello cat I just got back
I'm looking for that place they call the Chicken Shack
They say it's fine as wine
And it's really all a ball
No windows no doors
It's just a hole in the wall

Did you say it was located down by the creek
Where you can get a whole gob of good things to eat
All good portions of chicken once more is a cinch
You can even get the last part that went over the fence

They say it's the place where all the bad cats meet
You'd better be mighty careful where you take a seat

There's a place where the lights coming through the wall
You'd better be mighty careful, let's have a ball
Come on all you cats and take a drink from my pack
Cause the party's ready to start down at the chicken shack
