

The Night Of Your Life Is When You'll Die

Capital Lights

Listen up before the day is faded, I got a really short story to tell.

Keepin time and an open mind

Can I open with a question?

Not a sugar coated lesson,

Less than 20 minutes later when

I'm catching dirty looks from the ones who won't admitt when they're wrong

scaring all the girls just by repeating the name of this song

you think you're getting off easy but you're barely getting along playing harder to get, got no issue with the time when your the love of your life, the more you try to make a stand the longer your gonna sit.

too fullfilling/committing for a full go,

too fullfilling/committing for a fool

Listen up before the day is faded, I got a really short story to tell.

Keepin time and an open mind

Listen up before the day is faded, I got a really short story to tell.

As anyone can see that you've created your god...

counting on hope only living for the night of your life.

Whoa way to make a clearer day...

whoa way to bring a dreamer awake...

Are you open to suggestion? My education guess is no answer, gotta circle yes or no/knowing that I'm right when your left where you dont want to be,

wasting time blaming not admitting that your starting to see your not getting off easy but you're barely getting along playing harder to get,

still pretending that your ending what should have never began, trying hard to prove me wrong but I ain't seen nothing yet.

too fullfilling/committing for a full go,

Whoa way to make a clearer day...

whoa way to bring a dreamer awake...

your counting on hope, pretending that your someone your not
