Carousel Kings

I let myself believe a lie that I was breathing
Now I can see I was just broken and defeated
Rise and collapse
Sink me into the deep end
Break all my ribs and remove all my pieces
I can't change you but maybe I can learn to let go

How could you say it so clearly
From under the blanket of silence
You're killing me so well

Bury me, bury me
Until you can't feel anything
Can't remember me
I spent my whole life waiting for you

Break all my ribs
Remove all my pieces
Come on kid, come on kid
They needed someone to blame in my absence
You play the hero card so well

Bury me, bury me
Until you can't feel anything
Can't remember me
I spent my whole life waiting for you
Where did you go?
Where did you go?
I still see you in my dreams
You're still a part of me
I won't spend another night waiting for you

I can't change you but maybe I can learn to let go
I can't change you but maybe I can learn to let go
Maybe I can learn to let go

Bury me, bury me
Until you can't feel anything
Can't remember me
I spent my whole life waiting for you
Where did you go?
Where did you go?
I still see you in my dreams
You're still a part of me
I won't spend another night waiting for you

Maybe I can learn to let go
Maybe I can learn to let go
