

For All You Are

Casting Crowns

When I'm standing at the end of me
In the rubble of my broken dreams
And the wells I've dug aren't filling me
And the world I've made's not what it seems to be
My life, Your grace
Here I exchange

All of me for all You are
I lay at Your feet my broken heart
And I'll find my healing in Your scars
All of me for all You are

You're the anchor in a raging sea
In the center of the storm You are my peace
You're the dreamer of my destiny
And all You have begun You will complete

Your life, my gain
Here I exchange

All of me, I lay down for all You are
All of me, I lay down for all You are
Jesus, all of me, I lay down for all You are
All of me, I lay down for all You are

My life, Your grace
Here I exchange
Your life, my gain
Here I exchange

And I'll find my healing in Your scars
All of me for all You are
