Winter In The Desert Sky

I decline April's fall High time to refine and vacate Still I'll miss such listless bliss This path was the last recourse

Lucid hopes Chaos merchants Mingling thus Socialise this conscience Dream that dream Spirits will employ The slaughterhouse to guide you here

Nexus to hollow lies Jaded is the ocean view Redefine your anodyne The company profits today

I imbibed Every drop to survive To keep alive Lifeless wills that I scribed Elucidate When the depths take my hand

Blinded by the moment I claimed this mire A refuge from amentia and an epoch of desire Labouring alone beneath the mirror of the sky Transcend this foul elixir The firmament is nigh I won't concede I am a relic of the damned

I have scribed Every word to survive To keep alive Lifeless drops I've imbibed Elucidate When the depths free my hand

Blinded by the moment I claimed this mire A refuge from amentia and an epoch of desire Labouring alone beneath the mirror of the sky Transcend this foul elixir The firmament is nigh I won't concede I am a relic of the damned

Time conceives you like a tide within the ocean's eye All the power of a winter in the desert sky
