

Science and Love

Charlotte Martin

It started in a dark void
Something into nothing into my head
Trying to make sense of this
Trying to hang on to the very end

Remembering the younger days
Forgotten stares remembering your hands
That covered every part of me
I knew there was no way that we'd be friends

I can't stop missing you
Can't stop the magnetic force in my heart
Pulling you back to me
Round the moon, round the earth, to the stars and then
Back to my arms

I'm keeping myself together here
I'm walking in a circle around the room
Trying to imagine you
Trying to imagine the way you move

I can't stop missing you
Can't stop the magnetic force in your heart
Just like it's yesterday
You can sing over me all your truths about
Science and love

It's reaching high, it's reaching low
It's going everywhere I go, it's going deep
It's going through it's only here
Because of you
It's in my ears, it's in my mouth
Erasing fear, erasing doubt
It's your love
It's your love
It's your love

I can't stop missing you
Can't stop the magnetic force in your heart
Just like it's yesterday
You can sing over me all your truths about
Science and love
Science and love
About science and love
