Every Time I See You Smile

Chris Rea

Sat out a card game in a motel room Don't let the muzak drive you crazy late at night They tell me it's all part of the deal I'm in Well I close my eyes, put memory into sight

Every time I see you smile

Now the lady tabs your case, leaves you thinking An hour or so: I hope she's right on time And you dream away your touchdown destination Now single file and put yourself back in line

But oh, every time I see you smile

Now this old world don't give much for choosing You can spend a lifetime driving yourself wild But I can take it's punches laughing - don't mind losing Just as long as I get to see you smile every once in a while
