Only A Fool Plays By The Rules

She come on like a whorehouse All painted in lipstick red She had some kind of making You believe everything she said She said guilt and confusion It's just an illusion Only a fool plays by the rules Only a fool plays by the rules

Stick with me baby Try to look cool Cos only a fool plays by the rules

She show me things that I never, ever seen saw She took me way past my red light Showed me what the night was for Guilt and confusion Now I know it's just an illusion Only a fool plays by the rules Only a fool plays by the rules Stick with me baby Try to stay cool Only a fool plays by the rules
