

Lay Me Down

City and Colour

We are lost
Shaped by the rivers
The sky it burns
Hellfire red
These maddening, no-telling winds
They echo soft
Quietly whispering

Come lay me down
I've had enough
Lay me down
I've been hurt enough
How time runs on and on and
Lay me down
I've had enough

Distracting from
More meaningful things
The sooner done
The sooner I'll be free
Beyond the cries of seers and fools
A paradise, built on forgotten truths

So lay me down
I've had enough
Lay me down
I've been hurt enough
How time runs on and on and
Lay me down
I've had enough

Lay me down
I've had enough
Lay me down
I've been hurt enough
