

Jeremy's Song

City Lights

I'm gonna make you regret
That you didn't believe in me when you had the chance
Did you really think
That was the last bullet in my clip
Well you were dead wrong

Why is it that the closest of friends
Sometimes are first to lose faith
And the first to betray

What happened to the trust that you had in me
Was there something I did that caused you not to believe
I never gave up, can't say the same thing for you
I've got more left in me than I ever knew

You never payed me respect
I never was good enough for a second glance
I took it out on myself
But it wasn't me who deserved all the blame
It was you who abandoned me

Why is it that the closest of friends
Sometimes are first to lose faith
And the first to betray
Think twice before you talk down to me
I'll make you sorry you ever did
(I'll make you sorry you ever did)

What happened to the trust that you had in me
Was there something I did that caused you not to believe
I never gave up, can't say the same thing for you
I've got more left in me than I ever knew

You don't deserve all that you've been handed
Now it's time to pay for when you took me for granted
You don't deserve all that you've been handed
Now it's time to pay for when you took me for granted, yeah
You took me for granted, yeah
You took me for granted
You don't deserve all that you've been handed
Now it's time to pay for when you took me for granted

I'll make you see
That I'm all I cracked up to be

(And the first to betray)

What happened to the trust that you had in me
Was there something I did that caused you not to believe
I never gave up, can't say the same thing for you
I've got more left in me than I ever knew
