

Where You've Been

City Lights

A few words of advice for you
Always live your life with good intentions
Laugh as much as you breathe
And always love as long as you live
Cause nobody can go back in time
And try to make a new beginning
But if you start with today
You can make a better ending for yourself

Did you know
You can live out all your dreams
If you just set your mind to it
You can leave your doubters wondering
Why they didn't see this coming
And how you managed to
Rise above the rest

It's not about where you've been
It's where you want to be
It's not about where you're from
It's where you see yourself
When all the world has gone mad
And you're the last one left standing

A few words of advice for you
Always live your life without restrictions
One day it'll flash before your eyes
So make sure that it's worth watching
Don't listen when anyone doubts
Your ability to be successful
The greatest pleasure in life
Is doing what they say you can not do

Did you know
You can live out all your dreams
If you just set your mind to it
You can leave your doubters wondering
Why they didn't see this coming
And how you managed to
Rise up, rise up!

Rise above the rest
It's not about where you've been
It's where you want to be
It's not about where you're from
It's where you see yourself
When all the world has gone mad
And you're the last one left standing

Tell me will you believe
In your goals and your dreams
If you believe in yourself
Then you've got everything you need

Everything you need!

You've got everything you need

Everything you need!
You've got everything you need
Everything you... need!

It's not about where you've been
It's where you want to be
It's not about where you're from
It's where you see yourself
When all the world has gone mad
And you're the last one left

It's not about where you've been
It's where you want to be
It's not about where you're from
It's where you see yourself
When all the world has gone mad
And you're the last one left standing
