

You Keep Me Coming Back for More

Climie Fisher

In your kiss there's a message of bliss, I've waited for
And I've never felt like this before

You keep me coming, coming back for more
Coming back, coming back for more
You keep me coming, coming back for more
Coming back, coming back for more

I'm floating down a dream river, when I look in your eyes
You soothe me, you move me, you lift me up, I come alive
There's a power that's real, like a magnet to steel
I feel the force, and I know that baby we're right
On course

I'm sailing on a silk ocean, when you're there by my side
One touch and the clouds up above disappears
As we roll on by
In the heat of desire you're a pillar of fire through the Pouring rain
And I feel you love like a burning flame
