

Homebound

Cold Harbour

Through the hard times,
You have always been there for me.
Colder and colder my heart starts sink,
Deeper and deeper till i can't even think.
On the crisp morning you spoke those words
"See you soon"
But with regret i knew it wasn't true.
Black and blue.
The only colours that run true.
All the things we have been through.
"See you soon"
Treasuring that final goodbye that never came.
Red bricks turn to black.
That light that will never be found.
I'm HOMEBOUND.
