

Bury Me

coldrain

In an endless spiral
I'm down too far to know where I belong again
Lost in my denial
I've become a ghost to everything I've done
Again

Now I feel so hollow and it's all my fault
Just tell me where to go from here

If only I could see myself like you see me
Then maybe I could finally be the one I need to be

Bury me
Six feet under until I wake up
Bury me
'Cause I can't live, no I can't live like this
Even though my heart's still beating
Even though my heart's still beating on
I'm hardly breathing

Can I break the cycle
'Cause I'm sick of feeling
I'm against the world again

If only I could love myself like you love me
Then maybe I could finally be the one I need to be

Bury me
Six feet under until I wake up
Bury me
'Cause I can't live, no I can't live like this
Even though my heart's still beating
Even though my heart's still beating on
I'm hardly breathing

The further that i get the more I think
I'm blinded by regret and this i how I sink in me
10 years past but I can't see
Why am I still running from myself
When this is all that's left for me

Can I break the cycle
'Cause I'm sick of always feeling like it's me against the world

Bury me
Six feet under until I wake up
Bury me
'Cause I can't live, no I can't live like this
Even though my heart's still beating
Even though my heart's still beating on
I'm hardly breathing
I'm hardly breathing
