Shadow Of Love

Colin James

Too many miles to understand
How I let you slip through my hands
Tell me what can I do?
I crashed my hope and learned to lose
I watched the darkness make it's move
Yeah, there's no life without you

I've been waiting for the sun to shine
Kicking holes into the long night
I tried so hard to get it right, yeah, yeah
Now I'm standing in the shadow of love
You're still all that I'm thinking of
I'm standing in the shadow of love without you

The world I know, it disappears
The words I speak are hard
To hear and nobody cares
I cross the line and trip the wires
Fell into a dirty fire, I've been burning
There's no life without you

I've been waiting for the sun to shine
Kicking holes into the night
I tried so hard to get it right, get it right
I'm standing in the shadow of love
You're still all that I'm thinking of
I'm standing in the shadow of love without you

Time to kill the pain you gave me
Time to lose the shame that shamed me
Shadow of you made me lonely
Just because [unverified]

I've been waiting for the sun to shine
Kicking holes into the long night
I tried so hard to get it right, get it right
Now I'm standing in the shadow of love
You're still all that I'm thinking of
I'm standing in the shadow of love without you
Without you, without you, without you
