

It's the push and the pull of all the dreams that we've set
How many tears we go through, how many times we forget
It's not a puzzle to uncover, just the life that we live
Always changing

One, two
I've told you that I need you
Three, four
Give me just a little bit
More of joy and less of sadness
More of love and less of madness
Baby, I am yours
Baby, you are mine
Nothing is changing

And I'm trying my best not to let it all slip away
How many shots can we blow, how many games can we play
It's not a test that we're failing, just the choices we've made
Always changing

One, two
I've told you that I need you
Yes I have
Three, four
Give me just a little bit
More of joy and less of sadness
More of love and less of madness
Baby, I am yours
Baby, you are mine
Baby, give me
More of knowing joy in sadness
More of feeling love in the madness
Baby, I am yours
Baby, you are mine
Nothing is changing

Those words that don't exist
So how can we define this feeling?
It's natural to resist it
If you can read me, baby, lean a little closer

One, two
I've told you that I need you, yeah
Three, four
Give me just a little bit more
Five, six
Come on, let's talk about it
Seven, eight
Don't hesitate
Just give me a little bit
More of joy and less of sadness
More of love and less of madness
Baby, I am yours
Baby, you are mine
More of feeling the love in the madness

Baby, I am yours
Baby, you are mine, woah
Baby, I am yours
Baby, you are mine, yeah
Baby, I am yours
And that's never changing
