

Where Lovers Go

Color Me Badd

I have a plan, a woman and a man
Against the wind but living free
The price for love my life for thee
Don't run in fear, I need you to be here
I will climb the walls you hide behind
I will search the world until I find

I know that the ride we take
A life we'll make above the fears, beyond the tears
Happiness remains through the years

I can be the one, you know I can
When you're following me home, your heart in hand
Helplessly controlled to another land
To a place where lovers go

I see the light, endless in your eyes
Shining through, calling me, I forget the hurtful memories
Dodging the stars, to get where they are
They fought until they made it through
I will fight the same to arrive with you

A companion and a friend, I will love you til the end
Til the end of time, through the years
