

Day in the Life

Colt Ford

Stumbled through the door 'round 3AM
Alarm clock buzzin', jumpin' outta his skin
Just another day in the life of a country boy
Changed a lady's tire on the interstate
Ninety miles an hour, now he's runnin' late
Just another day in the life of a country boy

Yeah, just another day workin' hard as he can
Just another day tryna be a good man
Just another day in the life of a country boy

Fingers to the bone, nose to the grind
Puts in his eight and then some overtime
Just another day in the life of a country boy
Hauls ass home, grabs a beer and shower
Time to meets the boys down at happy hour
Just another day in the life of a country boy

Just another day out workin' the fields
Just another day out climbin' the hills
Just another day in the life of a country boy
Just another day gonna chase a few down
Just another day gonna get unwound
Just another day in the life of a country boy

I do now
I can see right now
You 'bout to get me in trouble

She said, "hey baby, let me buy you a drink"
He said, "sure, honey" with a smile and wink
Just another day in the life of a country boy
His big belt buckle said his name was He said, "that's my girl", all hell br oke loose
Just another day in the life of a country boy

Yeah, just another day as the roadhouse roars
Just another day sneakin' out the backdoor
Just another day in the life of a country boy
Well, just another day can't believe his luck
Just another day she's waitin' at his truck
Just another day in the life of a country boy
Mhm, just another day in the life of a country boy

Haha, yeah
Yeah, get 'em Colt
Haha, haha
Just another day in the life
Of a country boy
I'ma wake up tomorrow
Do it all over again
