

Your Loving Side

Conway Twitty

You and I have known a love beyond compare
Oh, but lately when we reach out there's nothing there
We seem so far apart, face to face 'cause your faith divide
But I'd do anything to get back on your loving side

To get back on your loving side
To get that tender feeling, feeling right
I'd give my heart to keep our love alive
And be a hero in your blue eyes

To get back on your loving side
Where your life's wrapped up in mine
Whoa, my heart won't be satisfied
Till I get back on your loving side

You know it's a shame
That a little rain put out a fire so strong
Now the chilling truth is the warmth is gone
Whoa, and there's a silence now
Silent words cut deep and wide
And I'll do anything to get back on your loving side

To get back on your loving side
To get that tender feeling, feeling right
I'd give my heart to keep our love alive
And be a hero in your blue eyes

To get back on your loving side
Where your life's wrapped up in mine
Whoa, my heart won't be satisfied
Till I get back on your loving side
