

Back In The Hand

Corey Hart

Eh
High mystery, low riddle
Give me discovery that intention can't find
I'm hungry, so anxious
In the cinema I'm dreaming alright
I was only 21
(I was only 21)
Put on my shades one night and worlds collided
Revelations have begun
(Revelations have begun)
You drink revival when you're thirsty for survival
Well, well, well
I don't care what they gonna do to me
I don't mind the rhythm of the change
I have found the center of my destiny
Back in the hand again (hand again)
No heroes (no heroes), no rebels (no rebels)
I'm only dancing to the beat of my drum
This is not new stuff, I'm thinking
Imagination through the wilderness
Where you don't have my number down
(You don't have my number down)
Toss another ball against the wall boys
I will tear the castle down
(I will tear the castle down)
Self-preservation is a miracle of wonder
Well, well, well
I don't care what they gonna do to me
I don't mind the rhythm of the change
I have found the center of my destiny
Back in the hand again (hand again)
Back to the line dancing, free on higher ground
Where I astound at all, the wonderment I see
Oh
Oh
Rationale betrays the human instinct
I'd rather trip on my heart than run the safe line
All you gurus at the racetrack betting on me
Life's richest pageant takes time
I'm amazed how demons used to travel here
Been set free since we boarded up that haunted house
Kiss tears goodbye to the edge of the hemisphere
Back in the hand
Cause I don't care what they gonna do to me
I don't mind the rhythm of the change
I have found the center of my destiny
Back in the hand again
No, no I
I don't care what they gonna do to me
I don't mind the rhythm of the change
I have found the center of my destiny
Back in the hand again
You know, you know I
Back in the hand again
Oh
Back in the hand again
Oh

Oh
Oh
Oh.
