

It Ain't Enough

Corey Hart

I could capture all the love the great romantics had Sing you a song that ain't half bad
But that ain't enough
That ain't enough for you

And I could carry the weight of your sad times dear
Give you the strength to face your fears
I know that I'll never be afraid to say
That I'm here by your side and I'm gonna stay

I could preach about a love that one shouldn't forsake
Work on my style of give and take
But that ain't enough
That ain't enough for you

Said it ain't enough
It ain't enough for you
And I could carry the weight of your sad times dear
Give you the strength to face your fears

I know that I'll never be afraid to say
That I'm here by your side and I'm gonna stay
Just a little closer to you, yeah
I could pour you a drink like I pour out my heart

Smile when I'm sad and act dumb when I'm smart
But that ain't enough
That ain't enough for you
I said it ain't enough

Nothing's enough for you
