

Harlequin Romance

Courage My Love

Nothing I can say or do to change your mind
Feeling like I must've tried a thousand times
You've got so much emotion
I'm just going through the motions for you
I can't lie

I'm bending, breaking
Cave in, can't take it
Hands are shaking
Don't make me say it

I don't wanna be in love now
You don't wanna just be friends
Probably shouldn't see each other
Each other again
You want me to play along now
But I don't think you get it yet
It's a harlequin romance
And it's all in your head

And it's all in your
It's all in your
And it's all in your
It's all in your

I'm not trying to be the one to hold you back
You tell me that you love me and I don't react

Bending, breaking
Cave in, can't take it
Can't watch, so just stop
Don't make me say it

I don't wanna be in love now
You don't wanna just be friends
Probably shouldn't see each other
Each other again
You want me to play along now
But I don't think you get it yet
It's a harlequin romance
And it's all in your head

And it's all in your
It's all in your
And it's all in your
It's all in your
And it's all in your
It's all in your
And it's all in your
It's all in your

Gotta draw the lines you can't read in between
No we're not on the same page; we've never been Cause you fell in love with the idea of me
But the girl you want, she just doesn't exist

I don't wanna be in love now

You don't wanna just be friends
Each other again
You want me to play along now
I don't think you get it yet

And it's all in your
It's all in your
And it's all in your
It's all in your
And it's all in your
It's all in your
It's all in your
