

Louder Than Words

Craig David

I was in love with a girl who stole my heart from the beginning and I always knew she was the one
She said that she loved me
I said that I loved her
So why did you have to go...

It was only yesterday girl you were calling me your baby
But now you're with another guy and expect me to be your gravy
When I was holding us down, you were both running around on the low
That's why I'm sitting here alone, mad at myself for getting so involved

Now I don't even know what you be saying
You be saying that you don't really wanna go
But I'm the only one that you be playing
You playing, so what the fuck is going on?

If you wanna make a fool of me girl
Acting like we got a future when there's nothing at all
If you wanna make a fool of me girl
It's alright yeah, cause actions speak louder than words

See you in the club with your girlfriends
Turning up, getting straight, getting wavy
Next thing you sliding up to me girl
Saying you wanna go home with me baby
If you hadn't stole my heart from the start
Yeah, I would gladly tell you where to go
Every time I be making my mind up
Girl, you know how exactly to make me fold

Now I don't even know what you be saying
You be saying that you don't really wanna go
But I'm the only one that you be playing
You playing, so what the fuck is going on?

If you wanna make a fool of me girl
Acting like we got a future when there's nothing at all
If you wanna make a fool of me girl
It's alright yeah, cause actions speak louder than words
Louder than words

Actions speak louder than words
Louder than words
Actions speak louder than words
Louder than words

No, baby

If you wanna make a fool of me girl
Acting like we got a future when there's nothing at all
If you wanna make a fool of me girl
It's alright yeah, cause actions speak louder than words
Louder than words

Actions speak louder than words
Louder than words
Actions speak louder than words
Louder than words

Actions speak louder than words
