

Confident

Cross Canadian Ragweed

I'm the one under your skin
Cheap red wine and cheaper sin
I'm the one behind those eyes
Deep beneath, in between your sighs

If you're confident, I will let you in
I will let you in, if you knock again

You're the one so underground
Rooted into me somehow
You're the one that had to be
I can't seem to lift you up to me
Lift you up to me

If you're confident, I will let you in
I will let you in, we'll be born again

Come over here
I'll make you whole at night
Come over here
Your last will is your last right

If you're confident, I will let you in
I will let you in once again

If you're confident, I will let you in
I will let you in if you're confident
