

You Can Touch

Crowded House

It could spell my mere defeat
You could find it's what you need
And you can touch me
I feel the fear and I know I'm alive
And tears will fall and oceans will rise
I won't hide
You can touch me

I won't die
I'm thin and pale and I need to unwind
My condition is hard to define
See no future from where I stand
For the present I am in your hands
And you can touch me

You can touch me
I won't die
I won't hide
And tears will fall and oceans will rise

I feel the fear and I know I'm alive
It's only passing through

You can touch me
And you can touch me
I won't hide

I won't die
I won't die You can touch
