

Karma To Burn

Cruadalach

You're forming your identity through the ancient symbols
As if being obscurant could book you a room in hotel Valhalla

Well...

I get it since I know how it feels like to believe in a pile of shit

Now it is time
burn your uniform, you hypocrite
Now it is time
Tonight we've got karma to burn!

Now it is time
Throw away those flags, you hypocrite
Now it is time
Tonight we've got karma to burn!

Don't be afraid of what you see
(Throw away those flags, you hypocrite)
At first it hurts but then you are free
(Tonight we've got karma to burn!)

"Is anybody out there?" - your voice returns in echoes
How lonely it can be, to dwell in empty halls made of fake gold
Instead of honoring the dead, live your life for those still alive
You would barely need a shell to hide, if you were open-minded

Now it is time
burn your uniform, you hypocrite
Now it is time
Tonight we've got karma to burn!
