

Bad Enough

Crush

You tell me that you're leaving
Do you ever get used to running away
From everything that you are
And everywhere that you came from
Does the pressure just build inside your head
Until you feel the need to change
All that you've become,
All you will become

I know it hurts sometimes
Do you want it bad?
Do you want it bad enough?
I know someday you'll shine
If you want it bad, if you want it bad,
Do you want it bad enough?

People around have been asking
They're wondering where you've been, and they
Are hoping that you're still breathing
Hoping that you're believing
In all of the good inside of you
Cause you never need to change
All that you've become,
All you will become

I know it hurts sometimes
Do you want it bad? Do you want it bad enough?
I know someday you'll shine
If you want it bad, if you want it bad,
Do you want it bad enough?

So you tell me that you're leaving
Do you ever get used to running?

I know it hurts sometimes
Do you want it bad? Do you want it bad enough?
I know someday you'll shine
If you want it bad, if you want it bad,
Do you want it bad enough?