

Hands of God

Crystal Ball

Back to the light
Back to your god

If you ever get lost on life's highway
You don't know where you should stay
You don't know where you will go
Then I will let you know

The party's over now
I tell you that it's not your fault
Get the chance it's up to you
I guess and I know you want it too

Back to the hands of God
Open up your soul
Leaving all behind and go

Here you stay, you feel all the pain
Every night it's always the same
You don't know which way to choose
But I will let you know

The party's over now
I tell you that it's not your fault
Get the chance it's up to you
I guess and I know you want it too

Back to the hands of God
Open up your soul
Leaving all behind and go
