Funny, funny

You don't resemble what i had in mind

Funny as it seems every night you're in my dreams

Ooh baby I never thought that love could be so crazy

Crazy it may be but you're the only one for me

I knew you as a child we both were running wild and love had ne ver crossed our minds

But that was long ago and little did i know love would sneak up from behind

Funny, funny there's no explaining what's come over me There's nothing i can do but hope that you love me too

I'd miss the glamoured love that twinkles up above
And fades just like a shooting star
But now I'm back on earth
I see how much you're worth and now that we really are
Funny, funny
There's no explaining what's come over me
There's nothing I can do
I'm so in love with you
