

Flaring Madness

Crystal Viper

Something is burning inside of me
Don't know why it wants my blood
It is sucking life out of me
Evil waters rule my life
Everything around me is dying
Secret powers took them down
Invisible but still shining
I'm its host, but don't know why?

Like a smoke, surrounding me
My world fell apart

Colors flaring strong at night, no matter where I go
Monstrous fire rising high, they'll never let me go
Land around me, and my life will never be the same
Smell of death scares all around, breeds poison in my veins

Frightful piece of cosmic nightmare
No one knows what is inside
Came from nowhere, and brought us
Unhallowed cycles of life
Glowing on and on distinctly
Colors no one can describe
Invisible but still shining
I'm its host, but don't know why?

Like a smoke, surrounding me
My world fell apart

Colors flaring strong at night, no matter where I go
Monstrous fire rising high, they'll never let me go
Land around me, and my life will never be the same
Smell of death scares all around, breeds poison in my veins
