

Never Forget Pluto

CYNE

(Verse 1: Cise Star)

Remember Pluto

Once a planet but now a pseudo

Funny how information changes the facts that you know

Everything is relative how you see it is evidence

That nothing's forever but never forget heaven

Because hell is all around

Yelling into the crowd

A trumpet will sound

With a sound louder than live rounds

Shot into the air with the angst of broke blokes

With no hope wishing on a star that God's close

Give me a witness

Or a camera phone with pictures

Of Michael Richards

Calling all of my people niggers

So does it shock you

That this mission is still impossible

Apology not accepted but

Hey Kramer I'm proud of you

For showing the world that we still in this shit

And everyday is a struggle with people acting like this

So stand up

It was the smallest on the list but

Pluto was a planet and

I'll never forget
