

Your Eyes

Daan

Insecure in for cures
Solitary isles
All the fears through the years
Vertically she files
For a while my painted smile
Life I lived it half
It feels good to love you more
Then I do myself

When looking for love in any wrong place
Just open yourself to simple days
A little affair for who you can care
Will make you change all your wicked ways
See the world through your eyes
For your look never lies
When daddy cries
It's the love in your eyes

Tiny hands uncut love
Undiluted charm
The morning comes without sleep
I take you in my arms

I can't give you all all that I want
But I can give everything I have
Show you the road cut up my coat
Whenever this dark world rocks your boat
Let me see through your eyes
For your look never lies
When daddy cries
It's just the Love in your eyes

See through your eyes
New born disguise
My tears are pearls running wild
From the love in your eyes

I can't give you all all that I want
But I can give everything I have
When looking for love in any wrong place
Just open yourself to simple days
A little affair for who you can care
Will make you change all your wicked ways
