

Strange Boy

Dala

Well watching you is hard to do
I lose my sense of through and through
Before you had arrived you were gone
And my days go on and on

Well nothing casts as strange a spell
As all the things you'll never tell
The shadows of your mind
Were not left behind

And you're a strange boy
And you're a strange boy
And you've estranged the world boy,
Again

Well now I feel you everywhere

And wonder what you found out there
You always had to be one step ahead
Too bad you never stepped out of your head

And you, you really believed you were on your own
And you, you really believed you had full control
And you, you made me doubt everyone I know

'Cause you're a strange boy
And you're a strange boy
And you've estranged the world boy,
Again

Well watching you is hard to do
I lose my sense of through and through (we're through)
Before you had arrived you were gone
And my days go on and on

You're gone and on and on

And you're a strange boy
And you're a strange boy
And you've estranged the world boy,
Again