I arrived at two
From a thought I had
Talking with Q
In the back of a cab

Once we were lost and we never came back
I can only exist so long as you laugh

Don't give up on me
If I ever leave town
Ain't it sad to see
Your life not work out

What made you think I would live in your frown
As you're waiting around for the witches to drown?

I suppose I could
Be here in the now
Still we find ourselves
In the previous year

Dear Molly H. I'm fed up with myself
And the tears I inhaled are not good for my health

Once I was lost and I never came back
I can only exist so long as you laugh
What made you think I could live in your frown
As you're waiting around for the witches to drown
