

Creative Destruction

Dan Bull

Hey look, here's a type of game that you've never ever heard of
An island with a hundred people on it from an airdrop
Fighting each other inside an ever-shrinking safe zone
While paying through the nose for some wacky custom-made clothes
I can't always keep every track tailored for the fanboys
Wow, have you seen how well this game plays on Android and iOS?
We're saturated with these type of battle games
It's as if the industry's incarcerated, shackled, chained
And that's a shame 'cause in between the shovelware
There could be fairly passable games
Is this one? I couldn't care less
It's yet another game I haven't rapped about
So let me grab a pen and pad and we can crack one out

Lock and load, I'm ready
Cocky, hopping over hedges
Watch me no scope in a moment
I'll be popping open treasure boxes
Collecting lots of loot and tat
I'm just like Stuart Ashen
Trendsetter with a newer hat on
Pure fashion master
Can't take too much action
I'm super anxious
So I'll camp out in the campground
Like a damn scout
And shoot the passers-by
My only plan:
Survive until I'm the last alive
Then head straight up back to the sky
Like I'm a satellite

I've been paid up front to make introductions
Another battle royale game straight from production
Apparently this one's called Creative Destruction
Like the rock formed from volcano eruptions
I've been paid up front to make introductions
Another battle royale game straight from production
Apparently this one's called Creative Destruction
I made the lyrics up, it never came with instructions

What is this thing anyway? Some kind of blimp taxi?
It's definitely not a school bus, it's pretty pimp actually
See? Originality, absolutely avant-garde
That's at least one feature PUBG just hasn't got Right, let's investigate we've never been before
So set the thing to north, we're headed to the ski resort
Hang on, this area feels eerily familiar
Are you definitely sure we really haven't been here though?
K, I'll take your word for it, I mean I've never heard of it
So presumably it's new IP and free, no need to purchase it
A hundred players and my aim's to be the first to get to victory
And if it means I need to do some dirty tricks
Fine I'm about to do some damage, I'm absolutely savage
Mad as when the cabin crew managed to lose my baggage
I'm university challenge, you're universally challenged
I do prefer to be telling the truth than hurtfully selling a spoof

Like "How on earth is he talented?"
Bank balance permanently swelling like a purple bellend, man
I'm telling ya, cross Fortnite with Fortnite and what you get?
Here's the hook again just in case you haven't got it yet
