

Give Me Some Time

Dan Fogelberg

Slow down girl, what's the hurry
Love can wait if you're worried
Then I'll try to ease your mind
You say we're losing time

But I've got to find
A way to convince you
I've got cause to be wary
For so long I've had to carry

The weight of another soul
You say I won't let go
But how do you know I can
Give me some time now
I've just got to find how
I'm going to forget her
And talk myself into believing

That she and I are through
Then maybe I'll fall for you
You're just what I've needed
But I'd be unfair and conceited

To say you're the only one
Woman, I'm on the run
From something I have begun
And can't seem to finish
Although it hasn't been recent
I still think it wouldn't be decent

To let you believe in me so soon
I've got to make you see
What she meant to me
So please

Give me some time now
I've just got to find how
I'm going to forget her
And talk myself into believing
That she and I are through
Then maybe I'll fall for you

Maybe I'll fall for you
Maybe I'll fall for you
Maybe I'll fall for you
Maybe I'll fall for you
