

Lose Control

Daniel Schuhmacher

Right now
I got this beat in my head
Right now
I want to dive into this world
Let it out for the crowd
Let it out yeah be proud

Right now
This is a real good atmosphere
Right now
Superficiality's not here
No excuse no rules
No one to judge
Just give a f

Refrain:
The time has come to lose control
Don't be so shy just let it flow
We are the masters of our own world

We pray for fire in the sky
We're sure that this night is our night
We stick together together together
We're alright

Refrain:
The time has come to lose control
Don't be so shy just let it flow
We are the masters of our own world

Well they drink really expensive champagne
On their private jetplain
All we need is a cheap bottle of wine
And a cigarette (hush hush) to have a good time
Of Freedom
Conviction
And no restriction
There's no other place to die
Then here with us tonight

Refrain:
The time has come to lose control
Don't be so shy just let it flow
We are the masters of our own world

We pray for fire in the sky
We're sure that this night is our night
We stick together together together
We're alright
The time has come to lose control
Don't be so shy just let it flow
We are the masters of our own world...
