A Wisdoms Breed

Darkane

As we walk through the valley of transparent souls We have to find the knowledge of sin So we will fear the light as the darkness Hate lies beyond the fall of any angels Search the lies In the insane sanity And try to invent hope for Those who have denied Never seen Never touched the wisdom of pure pain Look into the anguish of faith And see the helpless face of reality Take a look and see the time forever Through endless sorrow we have to wander Drift around in a chaos of regret We're being slain in the true circles of hell Search the lies In the insane sanity And try to invent hope for Those who have denied Never seen Never touched the wisdom of pure pain Don't compare your souls to mine Use your dark powers from deep inside Let the hate guide our minds to total control A world full of souls That have failed to complete their dreams Anxiety, the breeding of deranged erudition Search the lies In the insane sanity And try to invent hope for Those who have denied Never seen Never touched the wisdom of pure pain The eternal battle between good and evil Saint and sinner
