Time

Darzamat

The time is not my ally
I swing at the edge of the words
I await eternally the moment I have dreamed of temptation of elements neverending is so great they are passing too fast darkness, light, night, day

I am the ray but time is the light when will my heart feel the wind who knows the taste of freedom who knows the taste of calm

I must fly above reality
I must fly above the real the wandering is not my karma let's meet at the other side
