

In the Land of the Few

Dave Edmunds

Tell me again what you told me before
There were so many things I'm not really sure
See what I mean or forget all I know
Were you trying to tell me I'll have to go

Oh oh do I have to go
Do I have to go

I can laugh, I can cry
And they'll never ask me why
In the land of the few
Well, believe it

I can dance, I can sing
And they'll never say a thing
In the land of the few
They believe me

I can tell by your smile that you've something to say
Then I (?? hold ??) you the words if you turn away
Speak to me slowly I'm waiting to know
Don't they send you to tell me it's time to go

Oh oh do I have to go
Do I have to go

I can laugh, I can cry
And they never ask me why
In the land of the few
Well, believe it

I can dance, I can sing
And they never say a thing
In the land of the few
They believe me

There are many ways that I could wander
Because they take me for a fool
Though there's only a few to know
How far you have to go
'Til you turn around and find there's only you

There were times I could be like the people outside
And there were times when I had to hide
Some of my friends used to help me, I know
But now you've decided I'll have to go

Oh oh do I have to go
Do I have to go

I can laugh, I can cry
And they never ask me why
In the land of the few
Well, believe it

I can dance, I can sing
And they never say a thing

In the land of the few
They believe me

I can laugh, I can cry
And they never ask me why
Well, believe it

I can dance, I can sing
