Coming Down

Tears falling slow From the bridge Into the river below In your eyes, I start to see A starry veil, The ocean of infinity

Moon and stars above me Mingle with the blood Inside my vein These empty arms That should be Holding you close Through nights of winter rain I'm trying to spell What only the wind can explain It's colder than ever Coming down

I'm drowning in shallows Cos its in so deep There's neon melting in the rain Took too much powder too sleep Cos when I hold you naked When I see you laugh I got a sword to stem the rivers And cut the moon in half

Frozen stars above me Mingle with the blood Inside my vein Empty arms that should be Holding you close Through nights of winter rain I'm trying to spell What only the wind can explain It's colder than ever Coming down

We danced wild Kicked off our shoes Not a cloud In the skies to confuse Now the sky is cold The sea is wide And there's nothing to be done 'cept reflecting the sun And scratching the mountainside

Frozen stars above me Mingle with the blood Inside my vein Empty arms that should be Holding you close Through nights of winter rain I'm trying to spell What only the wind can explain

David Gray

It's colder than ever Coming down