Morning, sit in the morning sun
Evening, watching the shadow come
Through the bright streets of London
I feel the rain
Upon my eyes as I wonder
At this spell that I'm under, Magdalen
Since you came along

Meet me with your arms of snow and Meet me with your mouth undone I'm burning up from head to tow eh Magdalena when you're gone

Dreaming, we're drinking the night away Talking, way past the break of day Through the bright streets of London I feel the rain Upon my eyes as I wonder At this spell that I'm under, Magdalen Since you came along

Meet me with your arms of snow and Meet me with your mouth undone I'm burning up from head to tow eh Magdalena when you're gone

Meet me with your arms of snow and Meet me with your mouth undone I'm burning up from head to tow eh Magdalena when you're gone
