I'm Not Enough

I can't breathe in this atmosphere No air no life in here An all-enveloping silence Multiplied my fear Killed myself a million times To feel that I'm alive Reconstruct myself every day, anyway

I'm not enough
I'm never enough
i have left no stone unturned
Rest in me
Breathe life into me
I'm dying over and over again
Rock me to sleep
And bury me deep
Deep inside your hollow wounds
Rest in me
Breathe life into me
I'm dying over and over again

I'm living on borrowed time I am past my prime Quite determined to exhaust myself And live in someone else Everybody needs a little affection Once in a while Reincarnation of a broken soul All alone
