

Alone Awake

Dead Letter Circus

We will not be guided
Held apart and counted
Kept within our spaces, alone
Some of us have broken free
And we have chosen
Bleeding but we're conscious, awake

Clearly lost but turning
Walking from the dream within a dream confused
Staring at the seams and lines
Awake
Now the veil's unfurling
The illusion we're alone has now dissolved
It's you staring back at you
It's time for change
Awake

Please dont fade now that I see who you are
There's not enough of you here today
And this world needs you
Please dont change now that I see who you are
There's not enough of you here today

Clearly lost but learning
Escaping from this scene within a scene
Are you real
Or did I dream you while awake
Some of us have broken
Free and we have chosen
Bleeding but we're conscious
Awake

Please dont fade now that I see who you are
There's not enough of you here today
And this world needs you
Please dont change now that I see who you are
There's not enough of you here today

You and I
Us again
Unfolding as the world keeps spinning
Our minds covered with the veil
That is the game in which we lost
I get it now
Here it is
Us again
Unfolding as the world keeps spinning
Our minds covered with the veil
That is the game in which we lost
I get it now

Please dont change now that I see who you are
There's not enough of you here today

Say something as you're taking that step from me
Coming unstuck
The face that I choose

Wont let me in
On reflection of this concept of unity
The face that is you wont let me in
