

Towers

Deas Vail

Our towers are all tall
They reach out into the sunlight
Like the arms from far below
They appear from worlds of endless night
I may never see the sun
While I'm lost within the shadows
Because our towers have become the divorce
Of any love we know
Our friends become our foes

We'll stand together
Together till our devils down
And they will fall like feathers
Like feathers slowly to the ground

I can only see the stars
And the reflections in the windows
Of the walls that tower far
In all directions like a curtain closed
With nowhere left to go

We'll stand together
Together till our devils down
And they will fall like feathers
Like feathers slowly to the ground

Like feathers
Fall like feathers

We'll stand together
Together till our devils down
And they will fall like feathers
Like feathers slowly to the ground

And we will stand together
They will fall like feathers
