

Fading

Decyfer Down

It starts with one time to fit in Addiction slowly setting in
I drifted off into dismay

Eyes looking back at me
I can't even see your face
The pressure is closing in
It's taking me again
Wait it's all than I can take

And every single day
A part of my soul is fading
But now, by letting go somehow
Unshackled and unbound
I'm calling out your name, I'm fading
So save me from what I've become

It's like a force that's fooling you
Its empty promise hides the truth

Eyes looking back at me
I can't even see your face
The pressure is closing in
It's taking me again

Wait it's all than I can take
And every single day
A part of my soul is fading
But now, by letting go somehow
Unshackled and unbound
I'm calling out your name, I'm fading
So save me from what I've become

Wait, just about to break
Help me see the way
I'm shattering to pieces on the floor

Wait its all that I can take
And every single day
A part of my soul is fading
But now, by letting go somehow
Unshackled and unbound
I'm calling out your name, I'm fading

Oh wait, its all that I can take
And every single day
A part of my soul is fading
But now, by letting go somehow
Unshackled and unbound
I'm calling out your name, I'm fading
So save me from what I've become
