

Somewhere beyond, the never ending broad horizon
Is where we'll find, new worlds to claim and a red moon rising
All it takes is dedication, yes we burn down nations
Conquest of new dimensions, take everything we claim it all

The world is closing in, but we are ready
A fighters call, ready to give our all
We will drown in sin, but we're standing steady

Path with no end, a virus spreading across the land
Let's not pretend, that what we do is right, we got blood on our hands

Relax, relax, everything will be alright as long as you do what we say
Hand over everything you got, everything you have, all that you hold dear

The world is closing in, but we are ready
A fighters call, ready to give our all
We will drown in sin, but we're standing steady

Lasting taste of all your fears, violence is always near
No time to waste, let's go to work, let's go berserk
